

Lagerstroemia indica (Crepe Myrtle) –

This small to medium tree provides character to a streetscape creating great interest throughout the year. In Summer, clusters of spectacular white, crepe-paper like flowers appear. Following this, the dark green leaves add further interest as they transition into Autumn, turning a rich bronze-red colour. The bark adds to the show, as the mature tree has a smooth, rich pinky-brown bark.